

PPC Avenger Piped into Untapped Traffic Source And Accidentally Invented Traffic Goldmine. My Secret Of Placing Full page Ad On True.com For CPA Lead Of EHarmony ! Should I explain ROI?!!!

Ok, friends, I can claim this is something Earth Shattering In the IM industry. This is absolute goldmine. No hype. Trust me. You can start within 5 minute and see result within 30 minutes. I am damn sure ROI will be positive. You will be happy and send me a Thank You card at least within 3 days.

Don't skip a single line and don't over do anything. You will be in trouble later other wise. Let me explain how it happened. Perhaps you don't know I run a membership site for training of CPA marketing and I have some lazy members out there who never care to build a single page website for marketing CPA products as I suggested. I even personally emailed them asking why they are so deaf to my request. I got an answer which shoots me in back – Ah! Your landing pages and keywords are good but I am not going to launch a Adwords and YSM campaign for that. Do you know ringtone has 24 competitors in Google Adwords , while dating has 37! Credit report has $2.34 CPC and remortgage has $16. Am I crazy to bang my credit card for a $4 dating lead, $7 ringtone offer and $11 credit report offer. I am continuing my membership because I get 5 quality landing page and great design only for $10 a month....

I fled away from this email and deleted immediately.

I did not try to call Mr. Larry and Mr. Sergey to solve this problem. Neither I tried to sue YSM [which always run in Beta phase] for accepting so many advertisers for the same keywords. I was staring at my glass of whisky in my nearest pub thinking about a alternative traffic source which can bring the same result like adwords or YSM or Adcenter. Second tier search engines? Don't tell em! They are responsible for my $740 loss. Bum marketing! Dirty smell. Will took 100 years to make $100k. Craigslist , ezineads , usfreeads , SEO , 1000s of sites , traffic exchange , buying $10k banner through advertising.com , placing bikini ads in playboy mansion C'mon give me a break!

I need some thing instant, under $100, less pain in my ass and huge traffic source with zero click fraud.

Is there something left like this in this IM world where nothing is virgin any longer?

I searched, brainstormed, discussed with friends and started visiting some black hat forums. These forums are mainly for sharing ideas of making black hat money. These guys are evil minded, can do any thing , ultra smart and real money maker without fancy GURU crown. I met one guy who is making $500/day showing some pornstars big asses to some perverts. His website has a hell lotta traffic and he gives away free bikini model screen savers. You won't believe how crazy they convert and he makes $1.25 for every download of these screensavers. His traffics are mainly from web 2.0 sites and some porn sharing network.

Well, what a cool way of making money out of the perverts.
But, then some thing knocked in my dumb head. What these screensavers companies are doing. Are they crazy? How do they make money? People download their screensavers and stare at those big booty and they pay their affiliate $1.25 for it?!!

I decided to play detective and started to reverse the process from user side.

People download screen saver → Affiliates make money → Screen saver company
Distribute adware embed into screen saver → Companies place ad with these adware companies.

This is the overall story.

What is adware:

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Adware>

advertising-supported software is any software package which automatically plays, displays, or downloads advertising material to a computer after the software is installed on it or while the application is being used. Some types of adware are also spyware and can be classified as privacy-invasive software.

[\[edit\]](#) Application

Adware is software with advertising functions integrated into or bundled with a program. It is usually seen by the programmer as a way to recover programming development costs, and in some cases it may allow the program to be provided to the user free of charge or at a reduced price. The advertising income may allow or motivate the programmer to continue to write, maintain and upgrade the software product.

Some adware is also shareware, and so the word may be used as term of distinction to differentiate between types of shareware software. What differentiates adware from other shareware is that it is primarily advertising-supported. Users may also be given the option to pay for a "registered" or "licensed" copy to do away with the advertisements.

The Eudora e-mail client is a popular example of an adware "mode" in a program. After a trial period during which all program features are available, the user is offered a choice: a free (but feature-limited), an ad-supported mode with all the features enabled, or a paid mode that enables all features and turns off the ads. If the user choose the ad-supported mode, Eudora becomes adware, although according to Qualcomm the program does not collect any information about user activity.

[\[edit\]](#) Prevention and Detection

Programs have been developed in order to detect, quarantine, and remove spyware. As there are many examples of adware software that are also spyware or malware, many of these detection programs have been developed to detect, quarantine, and remove adware as well. Among the more prominent of these applications are Ad-Aware and Spybot Search & Destroy. These programs are designed specifically for spyware detection and will not detect viruses, although some commercial anti-virus programs can also detect adware and spyware, or offer a separate spyware detection package.

I know 99% of you use them and un/knowingly you use adware and now I am going to make money out of you because you use these programs ☺

Yes , I am going to place ads on Adware networks. They have billions of subscribers , yes I said billions not millions. I can target them for less than a cent for one full page ad view! I can show them ad of 0 APR credit card while they browse a 10% APR credit card website ! Can you imagine the potential ? And most important part is that I can start with $50 and within 2 minutes without worrying for Quality score , Ad copy , keyword research and competition.

So, I have invented an untapped , competition free and extreme cheap quality traffic source. Can you hear me?

Now, the game has started! We are going to make money from this traffic source. We have maximum 1000 competitors for millions of niches to target billions of buyers! We just have to plug and play!

Let me discuss the mechanism with you.

We can place keywords targeted full page ad. Means suppose they search Google '0 APR Credit Card' then you can show them Ad related to '0 APR Credit Card' from your favorite Affiliate network. You have option to show them pop up [unblock able by any browser software ] , pop under , creative or Banner.

The next option is you can place URL targeted ad , means suppose a browser is interested to 'Online Dating' and he visits True.com and now you can show him ad related to any 'Online dating' [my favorite is eharmony.com – where I makes a killing in these adware traffic] embedded with your affiliate link. How cool is that?

I am testing adware traffic with lots of affiliate offers mainly for high competitive niches and my ROI is 100% .I earn approximate $1500-$17000 a day through this traffic source. I've applied for Visa's Black Diamond Card so that I can invest more into these campaigns. You know I am very lazy and did not even track my individual keyword and URL performance. I even did not use landing pages [all were direct linking campaigns and I know pre selling some offers with attractive landing page will boost my conversion – Yet I am in profit and king of the adware traffic emperor!!!

Now, I invite you with red carpet to my grey world of targeted traffic considering you have bought 'Mass Control' through her link [and I told her I wont share it with more than 20 peoples and I hope you will be within first 20 people who bought Mass Control through her link]

Thanking you

P.S.

In future I'll manage everything regarding this adware traffic bonus not Kabita Kalita.I'll with you in contact through gtalk , YMeassanger, AIM and email. We will discuss everything about it in the special underground forum that I'll throw for you guys.

I'll even throw a underground forum for only the 20 people who will use adware traffic to market affiliate product after learning the tips of the trade from me.

One more thing, don't miss Kabita's bonuses she is one of the best marketer I've ever seen. Even I learn IM techniques from her [since I am a CPA guy and clickbank is a horrible thingy for me where people buy and refund immediately☺]
